

MediSurge - Disposable Semi-Rigid Catheter

- Due to their large inner diameter, these Disposable suction Catheters allow the operator to perform procedures in a clean, dry and fog free area. They can be used as well for standard or laser procedures

- The angled shape handle of the stainless steel AspicathM3 permits an easy and precise manipulation of the catheter into the body.

- The connector of each model fits most of the vaccum plugs.

- On the AspicathM3 the operator may directly control the aspiration with the control hole of the handle.

- The smoothed distal tip avoid contact trauma during the procedure.

- Sterilized by Ethylen Oxyde Technic, these catheters are not subject to high temperature strengths and display an optimal sterility for the advantage of the patient.
